Ms. Granville called the regular meeting of Community Board 8 to order at 7:15 PM, wishing all the fathers and father figures a Happy Father’s Day. Ms. Granville asked for a moment of silence for the late Kim Albert, a Board member who recently passed away. She expressed how valuable Ms. Albert was to her block association, the Board, and her community. Ms. Albert was Chair of the Seniors committee, Vice-Chair of the Parks Committee, and a member of several other committees. She will surely be missed. Ms. Granville also extended condolences to the Staton family, as they mourn the loss of their daughter, Lorraine. Mr. Staton has been a member of CB
8 since inception. Ms. Granville expressed her gratitude at receiving a hand-written thank you note from the Statons and highlighted how rare hand-written notes are in this age of technology. She then asked for a few words from Weeksville Heritage Center.

Weeksville Heritage Center – Ms. Anita Warren, Director of Operations

Ms. Warren stated that on behalf of Weeksville Heritage Center, she is pleased to host CB 8. She invited everyone to come and enjoy a tour of the historic houses and also to enjoy the various events hosted by the facility. She announced that Saturday, June 11th on the lawn, there will be a concert, and she invited everyone to attend.

Ms. Granville thanked Ms. Warren for the welcome and urged everyone to participate in Weeksville’s functions to learn more about the history of the community. She then asked for roll call.

Correspondence – CB 8 newsletter and other information was distributed.

Acceptance of Minutes – Mr. Atkins made a motion to accept the minutes with any necessary corrections. The motion was seconded by Mr. Staton and carried unanimously.

Ms. Granville asked for brief announcements from elected official representatives.

Ms. Tahira Moore from the Mayor’s Office Community Assistance Unit announced that over 1000 houses of worship were contacted simultaneously in a Mayor’s office Thrive NYC outreach campaign. Also, the Mayor’s office is offering free mental health first aid training. For more information, contact her at 212-788-1369.

Ms. Khiteriara Brown from Councilmember Cornegy’s office announced that the Councilman is hosting a bike ride through the 36th Council District. Please call her if you are interested in joining. She announced the Councilman’s upcoming veteran resource fair. She also stated that there will be several arts and cultural events in Brower Park throughout the summer. Information will be sent to the Community Board office, which will send out emails regarding the events.

Ms. Granville thanked the elected official representatives for their announcements and asked for an update from the CCRB.

Civilian Complaint Review Board – Ms. Sylvia Ancrum, Outreach Coordinator

Ms. Ancrum thanked the Community Board for the opportunity to share information on the agency, which has been around since 1953 and is staffed by all civilians not affiliated with any bureau of the NYPD. This allows people to come in and make a complaint with the feeling that they will get justice. The CCRB consists of a 13 member board appointed by the Mayor, City Council, and Police Commissioner. The board members appoint the commissioner of the agency.

Discourtesy, as covered under section 203-10 of the patrol guide refers to actions, gestures, and the use of profanity. Offensive language is also covered: any use of racial or religious epithets. Section 203-10 of the patrol guide states that officers cannot use language against race, gender, religion, or perceived sexual orientation. Remain calm cool and collected when dealing with a police officer and contact the CCRB if you feel you have been victimized. Allow the CCRB to investigate. The officer can be convicted if the complaint is found to be substantiated, or exonerated. The CCRB does not investigate every type of complaint, however. They review case by case.

The CCRB is responsible for investigating, and in some cases providing mediation between a civilian that filed a complaint of misconduct and police officers. The agency investigates allegations of force, abuse of authority, offensive language and other situations where people feel they were made uncomfortable or abused. Police officers play an important role in the community. They are everywhere most civilians do not want to be. Under those rules, a police officer can use only the amount of force necessary to overcome resistance. Abuse of authority refers to stop, question, and frisk. A stop and frisk without sufficient reason is cause for an investigation. Not every encounter should result in a frisk. A stop should only result in a frisk when there is sufficient cause to believe the person has a weapon. CCRB encourages civilians not to engage a police officer. Remain calm, cool, and collected and allow the CCRB to investigate your complaint. Do everything in your power to deescalate the situation. Police officers must have their name, rank, shield number, and command visible. If it is not clearly visible, you can ask the officer to identify themselves. If they refuse, that is something the CCRB can investigate. She announced that should you not want to mediate and discuss the negative interaction with the officer you have filed a complaint against, the agency has an Administrative Prosecution Unit that is responsible for prosecuting officers found guilty of misconduct.

After a brief question and answer period, Ms. Granville thanked Ms. Ancrum for the information and asked for a few words from the NYC Office of Emergency Management.

NYC Emergency Management – Ms. Yokarina Duarte, Intergovernmental Team

Ms. Duarte thanked CB8 for the opportunity to present. She stated that OEM was established in 1996 as part of the police department. After that, it became a unit of the Mayor’s office. In 2012, OEM fought for office status and is now a city agency known as NYC Emergency Management (NYCEM).

NYCEM is a coordinating agency that plans and creates emergency plans. For example, if a building collapses, they coordinate the different agencies that respond. They make sure that all agencies respond accordingly and that no agency is duplicating an effort of another agency.

The job of NYCEM is to educate the public about the City’s emergency plan. Emergencies happen all the time, so they are a 24 hour operation. The agency monitors city agency’s responses to these emergencies—fires, car crashes, building collapses, burst pipes, exploding manhole covers, gas leaks, power outages, etc. Emergencies are not just hurricanes and tornadoes.

Ms. Duarte also provided information on the Ready New York program. Ready New York is a program that brings out all the materials necessary to train people to prepare and be mindful of emergency preparedness. Ms. Duarte suggested that everyone be mindful of the little things that could help them be ready in case of an emergency. Medicine, an extra pair of glasses, 3 days of non-perishable food and water, pet care products—all should be a part of your “Go Bag” in case you have to leave the house in a hurry. Make a plan with your family—contact persons out of state in case local lines are tied up, a local meeting point in case of separation, and another meeting point in a different location in case your local meeting point is inaccessible. Arrange for transportation; have bikes available in case you cannot travel by car or arrange transportation with others.
To assist in times of emergency, there are CERT teams in each community board that will assist residents in that community. CERT stands for Community Emergency Response Team. All CERT members must go through a 10 week training program that trains members for all types of emergencies—fire, CPR, flooding, etc. Anyone interested in CERT training can reach out to NYCEM or Kwasi Mensah of CB 8, a CERT team member. As a CERT team member, you would be the one to help the elderly in the community and those incapable of helping themselves. Your neighbors would be happy you have the training and can assist them. NYCEM is also partnering with local businesses to get businesses ready for emergencies as well. During Superstorm Sandy, businesses were not ready or prepared for the damage.

She also informed everyone of Notify NYC, which gives notifications about almost everything including traffic jams. When you sign up for Notify NYC, you can put in up to 5 zip codes to get notifications for at one time.

NYCEM does over 1000 presentations on emergency preparedness each year but the agency is trying to increase that number. Materials are available in at least 12 languages and a presentation can be done in any one of the 12 languages as well.

Ms. Granville thanked Ms. Duarte for the information and urged everyone to consider joining the CERT team and suggested everyone prepare a “Go Bag.” She then asked for a brief presentation from Data2go.nyc.

Data2Go.NYC – Ms. Sarah Burd-Sharps

Ms. Burd-Sharps announced that Data2Go received a grant from the Helmsley Foundation to set up a website to make data available in an easy to use way. Through the website, you can learn how many people live in the community that have high school diplomas, age of residents, how many young and old people live in the district, obtain information on schools, and even compare fire activity in your community to others. Data2Go is not a city data product, but rather draws from city, state, and federal data. There is information about crime, voting and healthcare. You can see the relationship between kids health and school scores, asthma and hospitalization rates. The website is a way to map data and get comprehensive information.

The data is the most recent data available. Moving forward, the site will load in data for 5 years. You can use it to map population change in the district, as the site will track data from the last 10 years to note gentrification. In order to track this type of data and other changes, type “change” in the search box. For more information, visit their website at www.data2go.nyc.

Ms. Granville thanked Ms. Burd-Sharps for the information about the website and encouraged people to visit and learn more about the community through the valuable information available. She next asked for a report from the following committees:

Parks – Ms. Glinda Andrews, Chair

The Parks Committee met on Tuesday, June 7, 2016 at St. Johns Recreation Center. In addition to the Chair, present were: Thomas Montford, Carolyn Johnson, Mary Aikens-Reed, Martha Yealing, Dorothy Bembry-Guet, Greg Todd, Mary Salig, Emmanuel Thingue, Lawrence Brown, and Harold Williams.

Mr. Emmanuel Thingue and Ms. Mary Salig from NYC Parks & Recreation made a presentation about the Lincoln Terrace Park Playground design. The plan includes:
• Replacing new playground equipment (one side will be targeted for 1 – 4 years old and the other side will be targeted for the 5 – 12 years old).
• Planting additional trees, shrubs and flowers.
• Installing a 4 foot gate around the immediate area of the playground.
• Changing the entrance of the playground away from the street.
• Installing a ramp to accommodate physically challenged participants.
• Upgrading the sitting area for adults.

The committee voted unanimously to accept the design plan for the Lincoln Terrace Park Playground and hopes that the full board supports its recommendation.

After a brief question and answer period, Mr. Ellis made a motion to support the committee’s recommendation. The motion was seconded by Ms. Banks and carried unanimously.

Ms. Andrews announced that the Parks Department dedicated a tree and memorial plaque in Brower Park in honor of Shirley Chisolm. She encouraged everyone to visit the park and take a look at it. She also stated that she was saddened by the news of the passing of Kim Albert, who worked closely with her on the Parks Committee while serving as Vice Chair. She will truly be missed. Finally, Ms. Andrews wished everyone a happy and healthy summer.

The next Parks Committee meeting will be Tuesday, September 6, 2016 at 6 PM at St. John’s Recreation Center. All are invited to attend.

Housing/ULURP – Ms. Nizjoni Granville, Chair; Ms. Ethel Tyus, Vice-Chair

The Housing/ULURP Committee met on Thursday, June 2, 2016 at the Center for Nursing and Rehabilitation. In addition to the Chair, present were Desmond Atkins, Wayne Bailey, Lee Ann Banks, James Ellis, Fred Frazier, Liz Grefrath, Xeerxeema Jordan, Robert Puca, Yahyah Raji, Adam Sachs, Meredith Staton, Greg Todd, Gib Veconi, Yves Vilus, Sharon Wedderburn, Deborah Young, Adelaide Miller, John Santore, Micahel Chasan, D. Antic, Margaux Young, and Rebecca Chasan. The committee discussed the following:

1. LPC Application for Certificate of Appropriateness for the design for a street-front addition to 615 Eastern Parkway (also known as 300 New York Avenue)
   The architect for the owners of 615 Eastern Parkway returned to the Committee with a presentation of the modified plans to add a street-front addition to an existing single-family home. The presentation included new drawings which indicated that efforts had been made to address the committee’s concerns from the May 5th meeting. The plans for the proposed addition will have to be submitted to the Department of Buildings before they are presented to LPC. Questions were asked about an existing second door to the residence on the Eastern Parkway side of the building. The architect assured the committee that in spite of the second door, the home will continue to be used as the residence for one family, not two. After an extensive question and answer period, the committee was not satisfied that the changes in the plans eliminated members’ original concerns about the size of the addition, the fact that a key design element (the cornices) would not be replicated, that other design elements do not add to the historical value of the home, the alignment of the windows in the addition will not align with the windows in the existing house, and that the construction of the new addition in what is now the driveway will block ventilation in the next two (2) blocks. For those reasons, the Committee voted to deny support for the project with16 in favor, 0 opposed, with 2 abstentions and hopes that the full Board supports its recommendation.
Mr. Ellis made a motion to support the committee’s recommendation to deny support for the application. The motion was seconded by Mr. Atkins and carried with a final vote of 34 in favor, 0 opposed, with 1 abstention.

2. LPC Application for Certificate of Appropriateness for the modification and improvement of the existing stoop for 888 St. John’s Place in the North Crown Heights Historic District

The architect, Ms. Dubravka Antic, of D2A Studio, made the presentation to the Committee on behalf of the owners of 888 St. John’s Place, between Nostrand and New York Avenues. The property has been converted from a 4-family to a 2-family house and will consist of a rental garden-level apartment and a triplex apartment for the owners. The city had to lower the street years ago, so many of the homes on that side of the street have front yards that have been elevated above the sidewalk, which is next to the street. In the case of 888 and many of the nearby homes, there are 3 steps from the sidewalk that lead to an upper level front yard, which is where the outer stairs to the front door on the parlor level begin. The property lines for the buildings on that side of the street begin at the bottom of the original stoop, which is 5 to 6 feet from the gate. The railing runs along the top of the retaining wall opposite the three steps. The owners are seeking LPC’s permission to demolish the retaining wall that now exists between the sidewalk and the front yard so that the front yard will be on the same level as the sidewalk. By making the yard even with the sidewalk, it will be possible to enter the front yard directly from the street. It will also make it easier to navigate strollers and to bring garbage out of the house, and it will add more light to the garden-level apartment.

The architect explained that extending the existing stairs on the stoop by 3 steps would only leave 2 feet between the first step and the gate and would not be a viable solution. Turning the 3 steps to the side at a 90-degree angle and constructing a landing between the existing stoop and the new steps will allow the occupants of the garden-level apartment to easily enter the building through a separate entrance under the steps and only one gate would be needed. For the stairs, the owners intend to replicate the railing that has been used by their neighbors at 886 and 890 St. John’s Place. The Crown Heights North Association had voted against the addition of the proposed “dog-leg stoop” because most of the homes on the block had straight stairs originally, prior to historic designation. The pictures presented to the Committee show that both 870 and 890 have dog-leg stoops. After extensive discussion, the Committee voted to support the proposed project with a vote of 16 in favor, 0 opposed, with 2 abstentions in hopes that the full Board supports its recommendation.

Mr. Veconi made a motion to support the committee’s recommendation. The motion was seconded by Mr. Staton and carried with a final vote of 31 in favor, 0 opposed, with 5 abstentions.

3. M-CROWN Amendments

On April 9, 2015, Community Board 8 passed a resolution requesting that the New York City Department of City Planning study the potential for rezoning the blocks bordered by Grand Avenue, Franklin Avenue, Bergen Street and Atlantic Avenue currently zoned M1-1 to a new type of mixed use zone intended to attract new jobs to the district, and to encourage the creation of affordable housing.

On June 2, 2016, the CB8 Housing Committee passed two amendments to the 2009 resolution.
• The first amendment would create an incentive for property owners to commit to “business enhancing uses” in the 1.5 floor area ratio mandated for commercial and manufacturing use under the terms of the resolution. “Business enhancing uses” are broadly considered to be business types that are expected to employ semi-skilled or blue collar labor. The amendment would economically incentivize these uses by reducing the mandate for FAR dedicated to affordable housing in proportion to the amount of commercial/manufacturing FAR an owner commits to “business enhancing uses.”

• The second amendment would provide flexibility in allowing an owner to transfer the obligation to develop commercial/manufacturing space to another property in the M-CROWN zone. It is expected that the delivering owner would compensate the owner receiving the obligation, and the receiving owner would be able to use the compensation to create or preserve manufacturing space in the M-CROWN zone.

The committee voted 17 in favor, 0 opposed, with 0 abstentions to support the 2 amendments and hopes that the full Board supports its recommendation.

Mr. Veconi provided brief background on the amendments. He stated that should the zoning we passed become law, about 25 businesses and 100 jobs would be lost. The amendments came about by looking at how to save the jobs and businesses. The goal is to allow more flexibility to be utilized if the zoning is passed. The MCROWN committee is asking for a new type of zoning tool to be created via an innovative approach. The committee wants to preserve manufacturing zoning because it creates jobs.

After a brief question and answer period, Mr. Atkins made a motion to support the committee’s recommendation on the amendments. The motion was seconded by Mr. Staton and carried with a final vote of 33 in favor, 2, opposed, with 1 abstention.

The Housing Committee will continue to meet over the summer on its regularly scheduled day of the month at 6:30 PM. The next meeting will be Thursday, July 7, 2016 at the Center for Nursing and Rehabilitation. All are invited to attend.
